

Since we've been on the "do not call" list, the annoying, incessant telemarketing calls have abated. We only get a few charitable organizations now. Whew! What a relief. We want the "do not call" system continued.